Man nabbed in burglary of city department store

By JOHN GAMBRILL
Staff Writer

Anthony Henry, a 27-year-old Yonkers man, was arrested in the basement of H.L. Green's department store at 8 Palisade Ave. Wednesday. He was charged with trying to burglarize the store and with assaulting two security guards.

Police said the two guards discovered Henry, of 434 Schroeder St., in the basement of the store at 4:54 p.m. He was in the act of trying to take a large box out of the basement, the guards said.

The guards told police that when they tried to subdue Henry, he threw the box at them. The two guards fought with Henry and all three of them suffered minor injuries. One of the guards was injured when he was bitten in the hand by Henry, police said.

Henry was booked on charges of second degree burglary, trespassing and assault.

Stabbing

A 22-year-old man from 116 Woodworth Ave. was stabbed early Wednesday morning during a dispute with four other men on Palisade Avenue, police said.

James Hodges of 116 Woodworth told police he had an argument with the four men and that one of them stabbed him during the dispute. Police said Hodges would not elaborate.

Street beat

Hodges was taken to the hospital where he was treated and released for a puncture wound in his left arm-pit. The incident occurred at 3:11 a.m. at the corner of Palisade Avenue and Walsh Road, police said.

Assault

A 33-year-old Yonkers man was smacked in the head with a baseball bat when he was walking near the intersection of Warburton Avenue and Wood Place Wednesday, police said.

Ralph Emery, of 202 Buena Vista Ave., was in Yonkers General Hospital this morning for treatment of a head wound. A nurse described his condition as "fairly stable."

Police said Emery told them he was walking by himself near the intersection of the two streets at 8:30 p.m. when a car with three men in it suddenly pulled up alongside him. One of the men in the car jumped out and hit him in the head with the bat for no apparent reason, police said.

Emery, who complained of a severe pain in the left side of his head, could not offer detailed descriptions of the men.

Shooting

Police said a dog was shot twice with a rifle Wednesday near an aqueduct behind 316 Warburton Ave.

Sam Carr of 316 Warburton Ave. told police he heard three shots ring out behind his house at 9:30 Wednesday morning and that when he went to investigate he saw his black Labrador retriever lying with two bullet holes in his right rear leg.

A witness told police he saw a white man, about 6 feet tall and about 18 years old, running north along the aqueduct with a rifle in his hand. The boy had blond hair and was wearing a blue jacket and blue jeans, the witness said.

The dog was not killed, according to police reports.

Petty larceny

John DeGiorno, 38, of 60 Morrow Ave., was arrested on charges of petty larceny and criminal mischief Wednesday morning.

Police accused DeGiorno of breaking into a coin box in a laundry machine at 1:20 a.m. in the building at 60 Morrow Ave., building superintendent Jack Kelly said the laundry machines had been broken into more than 20 times in the last week.

Medicaid denied nursing home

Medicaid payments to the Centre Manor Nursing Home in New Rochelle were cut off effective today because the facility fails to meet federal fire safety requirements.

Last year the home received $109,000 in Medicaid funds, half of which came from the federal government and half from the state.

The home's 15 Medicaid patients have already left according to officials at the home, although the 33 private patients at the 70-bed facility are staying on.

According to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, the violations include lack of proper sprinkler system and too few emergency exits in case of fire. Alan Saperstein, director of HEW's regional Office of Long Term Care, said, "Centre Manor does not meet fire safety standards that would allow this office to find that the safety of patients is not in jeopardy."

Mrs. Susan Kaplan, acting administrator of the home, said plans to correct the violations had been halted last July when the home's owner, Philip Kummer, died.

Kummer was found dead of carbon monoxide poisoning in a garage on the home's grounds last July 26. Kummer, 51, was owner and administrator of the proprietary home.
