Nation

A low front carrying moisture that may reach the Northeast for the weekend was expected to drop rain on the Plains States and the middle and lower Mississippi Valley. Scattered showers will also occur in widespread areas of the central Rockies and the Pacific Northwest. Partly cloudy skies will cover the Southwest and the Pacific States. Mild weather will prevail in most areas of the nation but warmer temperatures will be recorded in the South.

Corrections

The policy of The Herald Statesman is to correct all errors of fact in the news columns as soon as possible. Errors in news stories should be called to the attention of Alexander Poletsky, news editor, at Y05-5000.

Wrong name
An obituary in Monday's edition for Frank Genarelli incorrectly listed the name of his father, Vincent Genarelli.

Wrong date
According to records provided by the Salvation Army, the Yonkers branch opened in 1889, not 1890, as reported in Saturday's edition.

Ticket-fixing scandal gets judge disqualified forever

ALBANY (AP) — Town Justice George Cobb of Haverstraw has been "disqualified" from ever holding a New York judgeship again, making him the first judge to be disciplined by a Court on the Judiciary in the statewide ticket-fixing scandal.

The Rockland County magistrate said he did not want to contest the 11 counts of misconduct against him, and the court accepted his resignation along with his agreement never to return to the bench.

The court order concluding Cobb's case was dated April 28, but was made public only Wednesday.

Only two of the charges against Cobb involved actual "ticket-fixing"—seeking what the court called "special consideration" for a defendant on trial before another judge.

The others involved mismanagement of court funds and records. The charges alleged that Cobb had failed to deposit bail money he received into his official court bank account, and that he later tried to cover the deficits in the court account with personal checks that bounced.

Thirty other local judges still face trial before the special Courts on the Judiciary, which can clear them.

She may sue to get Son of Sam rewards

NEW YORK (AP) — Problems have arisen over who, if anyone, should share in the $30,000 in rewards that were offered for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the 44-caliber killer who called himself "Son of Sam."

David Berkowitz, 24-year-old former postal clerk, was tracked down by police and arrested at his Yonkers home. Earlier this week he confessed to killing six young persons and wounding seven others during a year-long shooting spree.

But Cacilia Davis of Brooklyn says she provided some of the information that led to Berkowitz' arrest. She says she will soon sue in an attempt to collect a $5,000 reward from the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association.

George Douris, spokesman for the PBA, said Wednesday that a check by his group satisfied them that Berkowitz was arrested as a result of "direct police work."

He said the arrest came after Berkowitz was given a ticket for illegally parking his car near the scene of the final 44-caliber killing. He said police as a matter of routine would have checked parking tickets and did not need Mrs. Davis to tell them that.

He said, however, that if Mrs. Davis wants to claim the reward the PBA's position on the reward will be re-evaluated.

Other rewards were offered by the New York Daily News, WABC-TV and the Auxiliary Patrolmen's Benevolent association.

Complications hospitalize Joe Columbo

NEWBURGH (AP) — Former crime boss Joseph Columbo Sr. was listed in satisfactory condition at St. Luke's Hospital here today with recurrent problems stemming from gunshot wounds that paralyzed him in June 1971.

Columbo was initially admitted Saturday to the special care unit at the hospital, a spokeswoman said. Columbo's precise malady was not identified by the hospital.

Columbo, identified by the U.S. Justice Department as the former head of one of five New York City crime families, was paralyzed when shot at an Italian-American Unity Day rally in Columbus Circle in New York City.

Doctors hope Columbo's latest treatments will improve the basic condition that has left him confined to beds and wheelchairs, according to his lawyer, Barry Ivan Slotnick.

Secretary returning treasures

NEW YORK (AP) — A secretary to an elderly multi-millionaire and former General Motors executive has agreed to return more than $1 million in art works and stock she received from the man.

Helene Barak agreed to return the property shortly before she was to be cross-examined in state Supreme Court in Manhattan by attorneys for the conservators for the estate of Paul Garrett.

Garrett, 86, has been declared incompetent to handle his own affairs, and the conservators sued Mrs. Barak on grounds that she had wheedled the property out of the elderly millionaire while he was suffering from senility.
